ALFA MARIO

ALFA MARIO'S CREW

Dražen Ercegović - Captain and owner of Alfa Mario

My family, the Ercegović family, acquired our first ship in 1914, which was built in Piran, Slovenia. It was used to transport sand and cargo between islands. We named the ship Providnost.

In 1985, we converted that ship for leisure use, so we could sell day trips in tourism, and in 1989 started our first seven-night cruise. We had never changed our original name, which is why our company still bears the name PROVIDNOST.

As the years went by, the head of our family, my father Mario Ercegović, decided to build an iron ship after serving as Captain on Ships he navigated around the world, for most of his life. Navigator, the first ship we built, came in 2003, and in 2006 we built Azimut, in 2011 Liberty and Providenca in 2014. During those years, the whole family, parents and five children, worked together in tourism on our ships, and each subsequent boat built was bigger and more modern than the previous one.

And now, our pride and joy, Alfa Mario, built in 2021, was named after my father Mario, who was the pioneer and visionary of our love of this business, since we starting building iron ships that allow us to serve families from around the world.

We can proudly say that the ALFA MARIO with its 52 meters and crew that is dedicated to serving, is one of the largest, most modern and most beautiful ships that has been built in this area to date, with one of the best crews on the Adriatic Sea.
